You could find positions such as customer service rep positions for those who speak a second language, other than English, along with a few non-customer service ones like the technical trainer, cloud tech account managers, etc.

All you have to do is upload the design to the Amazon database, and select the product type and color. Amazon will take care of the production, packaging, shipping, and customer service. You will earn royalties for a product sold that you designed.

Amazon Trade-in will pay you with an Amazon gift card if you sell your used books, games, and gadgets. So technically, you won’t earn any money directly.

1 - Personalized Gambling Experiences

AI-driven technologies have opened up a realm of personalized gambling experiences for sports bettors.

This helps bettors receive customized suggestions on events, odds, and strategies that align with their specific interests and preferences.
