“Congress can regulate sports gambling directly, but if it elects not to do so, each state is free to act on its own.

Chris Christie.

“I am thrilled to see the Supreme Court finally side with New Jersey and strike down the arbitrary ban on sports betting imposed by Congress decades ago,” Murphy said Monday.

However, the state later changed its mind and passed a law to allow sports betting.

Again, the courts ruled against the state, prompting Christie to take the case to the Supreme Court.

Monday, the Supreme Court agreed.

They said in court briefs that if the high court sided with the sporting leagues, “Congress could compel the entire machinery of state government — legislatures, executives and courts — to maintain and enforce repealed state laws at the behest of the federal government.

“New Jersey’s real complaint is that Congress has forbidden it from enacting the specific policy it prefers — namely, state sports gambling at its state-licensed casinos and race tracks,” wrote Paul D.
