Here's a timeline of Florida's sports betting journey to date:
March 29, 2023: Florida sports betting welcomes the launch of DraftKings' horse-racing app, as the Kentucky Derby nears.

July 11, 2022: The DC Circuit releases a briefing schedule in the Florida tribal compact sports betting case that indicates a ruling won't occur until sometime in 2023.

With the 2021 Florida-Seminole Compact on ice, the tribe will instead make payments into escrow until the litigation is resolved.

The Tribe seeks to continue taking sports bets throughout the appeal process. The lawsuit claims online Florida sports betting would violate several federal laws.

The pact would have allowed tribal casinos and racetracks to offer legal Florida sports betting.

Individual states are now permitted to legalize and regulate sports betting.
