This can happen with slower internet speeds of 12mbps or 25 mbps.
You will be able to game while other people use the internet for basic video streaming, internet browsing, and more.

A speed of 50Mbps to 100Mbps is considered a very good speed for WiFi.

Internet speed is usually simplified into three variables.

Having a low ping is very important to your online gaming experience.

This is especially true if your internet speed is 50Mbps or above.

Final Thought

50Mbps is a good speed to have if you will be gaming.

You can have about 4 to 5 people streaming video, playing video games, or just browsing the internet without much performance loss at all.
