When you think of Big Ten college football, the Michigan State Spartans would be on the short list of teams that come to mind.

Going back to the program's first college football season in 1918, Michigan

State played as an Independent until 1952.

Michigan State went 19-1-1 during those two championship campaigns.

In 2021, the Spartans were ranked as high as No.

Michigan State is one of the few major college football programs with a US-based sportsbook partnership.
