Crown Towers Sydney has redefined luxury in the heart of the iconic harbour city, offering an opulent resort oasis unrivalled in Australia.

Located in the dynamic area of Barangaroo, the prestigious waterfront destination hums with city life boasting beautiful, sprawling parklands, unique public art works and a plethora of idyllic, laneway restaurants and bars.

Comprising of 349 Rooms, Suites and Villas, the award-winning structure designed by architect, Wilkinson Eyre, rises majestically above the skyline at 275 metres high and sets a new standard of sophistication with enviable views of Sydney's iconic landmarks.

Each room is unique in configuration with bespoke design features from prestigious New York based, Meyer Davis.

Natural and aqua hues compose a modern residential décor with generous spaces, intuitive technology, breathtaking views and lavish marble bathrooms with sculptured baths.

Guests can enjoy the expansive infinity pool and terrace featuring secluded cabanas, plush day beds, horizon overflows and stunning panoramic views.

Featuring treatments by La Prairie and Subtle Energies, Crown Spa Sydney invites guests to immerse themselves in a complete, wellness journey unparalleled to any other.

Crown Sydney has a plethora of restaurants and bars featuring renowned chefs and signature dining experiences including Nobu, Woodcut, CIRQ and Oncore by Clare Smyth.

Some of the giants of the betting industry – Coral, Paddy Power and William Hill among others – all started out small before becoming the gambling goliaths we know today.

Online betting has never been more popular, but the marketplace is somewhat saturated nowadays.

You have to rent some real estate and employ staff to help you run the place and that means additional costs.

Step 3: Find Out Which Licenses You Need

A license application has no guarantee of success and the UK Gambling Commission doesn't return fees if you get turned down.
